

Automatic Palettes

ZerOS can automatically create palettes for all attributes, which can be a quicker method of controlling parameters than via the encoders. If palettes are available for your fixtures, an Automatically create palettes button will be displayed.

Automatic palettes are created based on the fixtures you have patched, so it's recommended to fully patch your console before choosing Automatically create palettes.